SUNBEAMS: 3 Day program (Monday, Wednesday, Friday)

Through play, children develop ways of learning. Rhymes, fairy tales, and parables are vehicles through which children learn and develop language and social skills. We can appreciate them even more by realizing that beyond enjoyment, a child is also developing skills in the areas of coordination, imagination, and fair play.

Perfect Predictions: Prophecy never came by the will of man, ... they were moved by the Holy Spirit. 2 Peter 1:21

At the beginning of a new year, we hear many predictions. In 1983, US News & World Report magazine had a section title "What the Next 50 Years Will Bring." It had the usual suggestions about the growing importance of computers, about new medical breakthroughs and about the sleeker, faster ways of getting around. The introduction said, "Prediction is at best a risky business: That may be sure of man's predictions, but not of God's prophecies. Many may speculate about what will happen next week, but God showed us in the Bible that He knows the future. Do you lack confidence in the Bible? Spend some time examining its many fulfilled prophecies. Perhaps you will be convinced that you can rely on it for everything in your future – JDB

"In a changing world, you can trust God's unchanging WORD."
